The Hare and the Hedgehog.

FROM THE LOW GERMAN OF SCHOEBER.

This is a tough one to tell, young sir, but true it is for all of that; for my grandfather, from whom I have it, used always to say, when he told it: "True must it be, my son, otherwise we could not tell it so at all." And this is the way the story ran:

"Twas on a pleasant Sunday morning toward harvest time, just as the buckwheat blossomed. The sun had gone brightly up in the heaven; the morning wind swept warm over the stubble; the lark sang in the air; the bees hummed in the buckwheat; the good folks went in Sunday gear to church, and all creatures were happy and the hedgehog also.

The hedgehog stood before the door with his arms folded, peeped out into the morning air, and chirruped a little song to himself, just as good and just as bad as the hedgehog is wont to sing on a pleasant Sunday morning.

And as he was singing to himself, in a cheery little voice, all at once it came into his head he might as well, while his wife was washing and dressing the children, take a little walk into the field and see how his turnips were standing. Now the turnips were close to his house, and he used to eat them with his family, so that he looked upon them as his own. No sooner said than done. The hedgehog shut the house door after him, and took his way to the field. The lord not gone very far from the house, and was about to turn, just by the thorn bush which stands there before the field, near the turnip patch, when he met the hare who had come out on a similar business, namely, to look after his cabbages. When the hedgehog caught sight of the hare, he bid him a friendly "good morning." But the hare, who, in his own way, was a mighty fine gentleman, and held his head very high, answered nothing to the hedgehog's greeting, but said to the hedgehog, putting on thereby a most scornful mien, "How happens it, then, that thou art strolling about here in the field so early in the morning."

"I am taking a walk," said the hedgehog.

"Taking a walk," laughed the hare; "me thinks thou mightest use those legs of thine for better things."

This answer vexed the hedgehog hugely, for he could stand almost anything, but his legs he did not like to have spoken about, because they were crooked by nature.

"How thinkest, perhaps," said the hedgehog to the hare, "thou couldst do more with thine own legs?"

"That's what I do think" said the hare.

"That depends upon the trial," quoth the hedgehog. "I bet that if we run a race together, I beat thee hollow."

"That's quite laughable, thou with thy crooked legs," said the hare, "but I've nothing against it if thou art so bent upon it. What's the bet?"

"A golden louis d'or and a bottle of brandy," said the hedgehog.

"Done," said the hare, "fall in then, and it may come off at once."

"Nay, the eyes no such hurry," said the hedgehog. "I'm still quite hungry. I'll go home and get a bit of breakfast first; within half an hour I'll be here again on the spot."

With this the hedgehog went his way, for the hare was also content.

On the way the hedgehog thought to himself:

"The hare trusts to his long legs, but I'll teach him for all that, he's a fine gentleman to be sure, but he's only a stupid fellow, and pay he shall!"

Now when the hedgehog came to his house, "Wife, dress thyself in my best, quickly, thou must go with me to the field."

"What's all this about?" said the wife.

"I've let the hare a golden louis d'or and a bottle of brandy that I beat him in a race and thou must be by."

"O, my dear husband!" began the hedgehog's wife to cry, "art thou foolish? Last time quite lost thine understanding; how canst thou wish to run a race with the hare?"

"Hold thy mouth, wife, said the hedgehog, "that's my business; don't meddle with men's affairs. March! dress thyself in my clothes and then come along."

What could the hedgehog's wife do? She had to follow whether she would or no. When they were on the way together the hedgehog said to his wife: "Now, listen to what I have to say. See'st thou, on the long acre yonder will be run our race. The hare runs in one furrow and I in another, and we begin to run from up there. Now, then, first nothing else to do than to take thy place here in the furrow, and when the hare comes up on the other side then must call out to him, 'I'm here already.'" With this they had reached the field; the hedgehog showed his wife the place and went up the furrow. When he got to the upper end the hare was already there.

"Can we start?" said the hare.

"Yes, indeed!" said the hedgehog.

"So it the," and with that each placed himself in his furrow, and the hare counted one, two, three! and away he went like a storm-wind down the field. But the hedgehog ran about three steps, and then ducked down in the furrow and sat still.

When the hare, on the full hand, came to the lower end of the field, the hedgehog's wife called out to him, "I'm here already." The hare started and wondered not a little. He thought not otherwise than that it was the hedgehog himself that ran out to meet him, for, as every one knows, the hedgehog's wife looks like her husband.

But the hare thought, There's something wrong about this! Another race! At it again! And away he went away like a storm wind, so that his ears lay flat on his head. But the hedgehog's wife stayed quietly in her place. When the hare came to the upper end the hedgehog called out to him, "I'm here already." But the hare, beside himself with rage, cried "Another race! At it again!"

"I'm quite willing," answered the hedgehog, "just as often as thou likest."

So the hare ran three and seventy times, and the hedgehog held out to the very end with him. Every time the hare came either below or above, the hedgehog or his wife said, "I'm here already!"

But the four and seventieth time the hare came no more to the end. In the middle of the field he fell to the earth and lay dead upon the spot.

So the hedgehog took the louis d'or and the bottle of brandy he had won, called his wife out of the furrows, both went home together, and if they have not died they are living still. So happened it that on the Buxtehude heath the hedgehog ran the hare to death, and since that time no hare has ever dreamed of running a race with a Buxtehude hedgehog.

But the moral of this story is, first, that no one, however high and mighty he may think himself, shall let it happen to him to make merry over an humble man, even if he be a hedgehog; and secondly, that it is advisable, when one marries, that he take a wife out of his own condition, and who looks like himself. He therefore that is a hedgehog, must look to it that his wife is also a hog, and so forth.

ADVICE TO BATHERS.—Mr. Lampton Young, the secretary of the Royal Humane Society, publishers the following excellent advice to bathers:

Avoid bathing within two hours after a meal.

Avoid bathing when exhausted by fatigue or from any other cause.

Avoid bathing when the body is cooling after perspiration but bathe when the body is warm provided no time is lost in getting into the water.

Avoid sitting, the body by sitting or standing naked on the banks or in boats, after having been in the water.

Avoid remaining too long in the water, but leave it immediately there is the slightest feeling of chilliness.

Avoid bathing altogether in the open air if under the necessity of doing so, bathe in the water for a short time only, and immediately there is the slightest sense of chilliness with numbness of the hands and feet.

The strongest and strong may bathe early in the morning on an empty stomach but the young and those whose weak head better bathe three hours after a meal; the best time for such is from two to three hours after breakfast.

Those who are subject to attacks of giddiness and faintness, and those who suffer from palpitation or other sense of discomfort at the heart, should not bathe without first consulting their medical adviser.

A NEW PARTY.

The Hon. W. S. Groesbeck of Ohio, one of the most eminent gentlemen in the Democratic party, and who has just declined a gubernatorial nomination, has written a letter in which he expresses a conviction that there must be a breaking up of the present political parties or the formation of a new one. In saying this Mr. Groesbeck only expresses the profound conviction of a large and constantly increasing number of persons in both of these present political organizations. The new departure of the late Mr. Vallandigham, the conduct of many leading democrats at the South and the "liberal" movement of last year, all testify to a wide spread dissatisfaction with the parties of to-day.

The fact is, that there is less difference between the Republican and the Democrat of today than there is between the meanings of those two party-names. The mass of the Democrats acknowledge the fallacy of secession, that is those do who ever asserted the right: they accept the abolition of slavery and the civil rights of the colored man, the Lexington Crescista to the contrary notwithstanding, and they are neither more extravagant nor more dishonest than are their opponents. On the other hand they are wild when they raise a hue and cry about "centralization" and "Cæsarism" and "coup d'état." A Republican is as thoroughly democratic in his sentiments as a Democrat is republican.

Neither President Grant nor the party which elected him are in anyway responsible because some of the local authorities in Washington tried a rather high handed performance with the editor of the New York Sun. And yet because of that little affair, promptly killed by a federal judge, the Democratic press uttered a howl as though we were on the very verge of a Russian despotism. The exigencies of the war have led the party in power to resort to some extreme and occasionally unjust measures, but the Republicans are no more likely to establish an oligarchy than are the Democrats to divide the United States into a hundred little republics.

In the campaign just the struggle was not one for principles as it was in 1860; it was a fight between Republicans and Democrats and the Republicans won because like the Trojan they would not believe the Greeks even when they brought gifts with them. They would not share the government with Democrats because they believed the Democrats lied. The avowed principles of both parties were almost identical. When a Republican stump speaker addressed an audience he had nothing to argue against. He had nothing to do but to denounce Mr. Greeley and to tell our troops all Republican, of course fought in the late war, and how they were treated by such Democrats as Jeff. Davis and Captain Wirz.

The plain truth is that there is nothing at issue between the two parties except the possession of the offices. In saying this we do not wish to be understood as saying that the result of the last presidential election was immaterial. Very far from it. There was a manifest incapacity about many of the leaders of the "Liberal" movement. The management of the Cincinnati convention, and the disingenuous conduct of the opposition candidate for the presidency conspired to throw discredit on the whole movement, but that is no reason why a fusion party is not greatly needed, and would not be successful if properly managed.

It is not because she has a Republican crew and chart and compass that the ship of state moves slowly and does not promptly answer her helm. But she has sailed so long in the same seas and without any attention to her copper sheathing that her bottom has become foul with tons of barnacles that have multiplied and increased. She doesn't want to be turned over to an ignorant or a mutinous crew, but she ought to be put in a dry dock and scraped. Ten or a dozen years ago she was in a leaky condition sea, and it was about all the crew could do to keep her afloat, but they kept her bottom tolerably clear, or rather the barnacles were not anxious to attach themselves to her during the rough weather. But now the crew have little work to do, and they have acquired a feeling of security in their positions, and the ship is in a warm and tranquil sea where sea weed and barnacles abound, and the result is that she needs a thorough over hauling, and several of her officers and crew should be renewed just to make the rest of them attend to their business better.

We repeat that at the bottom there is nothing of importance at issue between the two parties of to-day. A candidate is elected not because he is a Democrat or Republican. The two parties are respectively held together only by names and by traditions which are from ten years old and upward. The result of this is that the "ins" are becoming corrupt, and the "outs," demoralized. Year by year the contest becomes more and more one for power and pelf only.

It will not answer for the Democrats to accept a sound platform and nominate a Republican, and yet preserve their party organization. No large number of Republicans can be caught with that bait. It has been tried and has failed. Republicans will not throw up their party organization till Democrats have done so. If the Baltimore convention had nominated U. S. Grant the Republicans would only have been the more distrustful because they would have suspected a deeper plot.

If any Democrats are serious in desiring a new and reformed party they must come out boldly and give up their name and organization. It is not individuals, but the party, that the Republicans will not trust. The Democratic party can never regain its old position, and its best members say so. But if a large number of its members are sufficiently in earnest in their plan for ridding the country of the unprincipled politicians who are gaining the ascendancy, to come out and take a new name and form a new organization they will be joined by a very large number of individual Republicans who acknowledge the faults of their own associates but who will never vote with the Democratic party.

STATE MISCELLANY.

On Sunday (27th) during a heavy thunder shower, Mr. Arthur M. Babcock's dwelling house, in Westerly, was struck by lightning and terribly shattered. Mrs. Babcock, who was standing by a window with a young lady at her side, received a shock which came near being fatal. The young lady was not injured. The house was struck on the north side; chimnies and clapboards were torn up, woodwork, plastering and window panes shattered. Two cooking stoves were wrecked, several kerosene lamps were broken and their contents scattered, some lucifer matches in a tin safe were partially burned, the bell wire was melted off close by the front door, even the earth and stones were torn up when a lightning rod entered the ground and mud was cast against the clapboards even up to the peak of the roof. Strangest of all this strange work, the house did not take fire, and Mr. Babcock still has a roof over his head. A somewhat shattered one to sure. It is quite uncertain as yet how severe Mrs. Babcock's injuries may prove.—Star.

While the severe tempest was passing over Kingston, Sunday, the barn of Albert Underwood, situated three fourths of a mile north of here, was struck by lightning and with its contents was entirely destroyed by fire. It was a new barn, having been built but two years, and contained about ten tons of hay, carriages and farming tools. The loss is estimated at $1,000.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

—Hot!

—It "fogged" hard last night.

—The grounds of Mr. Gardner Brower are among the most attractive in the city.

The people at the north of us are evidently enjoying a shower of rain.

—The yachts and other vessels in the harbor make an animated scene with sails set to-day, after the rain of last night.

—Large numbers came from the Pier today, on steamer Florence.

The merchants who have perishable goods are rejoicing at the change in the weather.

—Mr. J. P. Kernochan was upon the avenue, last evening, with an English drag drawn by four bays.

—A horse attached to a carryall, ran upon the avenue yesterday afternoon and brought up in front of Smith & Butler's with a broken cross-bar.

—Another Bazar for the benefit of the Union Congregational Church is announced to take place this and to-morrow afternoon and evening.

Professor D. C. Easton, of Yale College, has rented a cottage on Narragansett avenue, in which he will spend the remainder of the season.

—Duprez and Benedict's celebrated minstrel troupe give two entirely new entertainments on Tuesday and Wednesday nights of next week.

—Miss Nellie Preston of Evansville, Indiana and H. M. Preston of New Orleans, have arrived for the season at the Murphy cottage on Kay Street.

—The clam bake of the St Paul's Society in Portsmouth is to occur at Bristol Ferry on the 13th, and not on the 7th as at first stated.

—The berry season may be said to be fully begun, and on arrival of steamer Edna may be seen large quantities of the fruit sent across for the Newport market.

—Large numbers went to Rocky Point on steamer City of Newport at 11 o'clock, to attend the reunion. The City took the place of the River Belle on the route for this day only.

—Capt. Stratton was at Williams's yesterday, and stood for a photograph. He was at the same place twenty-four years since on the same errand and remembered the circumstance well.

—Crop reports from the island are not very encouraging. With the exception of corn the yield is said to be not more than half the usual quantity, and it will require a late fall to fully mature this so that the crop will be up to the average.

—An exchange says that at Newport the young swells intimate a desire to form the acquaintance of young ladies by squirting perfumery on them as they pass the hotel piazzas. This is hard on Newport and we don't believe it.

—Carey has as fine a show of hot-house peaches and apricots as can be found anywhere. Some time since he bought the entire crop of the Belmont houses at an expense of about eight hundred dollars. It requires faith for a fruit operation of that kind.

—The Wickford route seems to be well patronized, and whatever may be said about the falling off of travel, it will not apply to this line. The 5:30 trip makes good connection with the Stonington boat and passengers reach New York at an early hour after a good night's rest in still water.

On account of the scarcity of water in the well which supplies the fog whistle at Point Judith it will not sound and the old horn will be used until the trouble is remedied. The engine had been worked consecutively for sixty two hours when it stopped at 6 o'clock this morning.

Rev. E. S. Stanley, formerly of this city, has been appointed agent of the Rhode Island Bible Society in the place of Dennen Gould, deceased. We understand that he will at once proceed to his work, and have no doubt he will make an able and efficient worker in this important field.

—Master Willis Shelton, the celebrated "Boy organist," is at the Ocean House, accompanied by his father. Master Shelton's wonderful organ performance in this city several seasons since will be remembered by our guests and citizens. Since then he has been in Europe and has greatly advanced in his art, and to-day probably has no equal in the world.

—The bucolic peacefulness of Narragansett Pier was broken last night at about 12 o'clock, by the noisy rattling of a four-horse stage, which, driverless, was dashing furiously through the deserted streets. After cavorting around for some minutes, smashing a few sidewalk and fence boards, the concern brought up under a shed without serious damage to either horses or stage.

—The Board of Firewards at their regular monthly meeting on Monday evening voted unanimously to hold the Annual Review and Inspection of the Fire Department some time during the month of September, and have referred the matter of details, programme &c., to their standing committee. General orders will probably be issued to the Department within the next ten days. No efforts on the part of the Board will be spared to make the occasion satisfactory to all.

A BASHFUL PHILANTHROPIST.—Off Finch and Engs's wharf a place has been rigged up for the boys to bathe in. Forty or fifty feet from the end of the wharf a raft was anchored, yesterday morning, the surface of which is about six inches out of water. In the afternoon a marine reporter came paddling along with a short quick stroke, which he invented and for which he charges no large royalty that none of our college boat clubs have as yet seen fit to adopt. He seemed entirely oblivious to the existence of that raft, for he rowed pretty rapidly "head on" to it. Presently there was a concussion, and the reporter's boat didn't sink the raft to any great extent. The aquatic gentleman merely changed his lom of his boat, just forward of the seat, with great velocity, and his feet flew up into the air like a jumping jack, and his oars got out of his hands very suddenly. And there he lay for a moment like a carpenter's square with the long arm on a board and the short arm sticking up. Then he gathered himself together and picked up his oars and rowed off without once looking on the wharf to see how many heavy hearts he had lightened, and how many gloomy faces he had wreathed in smiles, and in short, how much he had added to the happiness of the world.

JAMES H. CLARKE has just opened his new store south of the post-office, in Cottrell Block. It is a double store about forty-five feet deep, and forty feet front with greater width in the rear. The stores are handsomely fitted up, the walls of the northern one being papered, and of the southern one colored a fine blue. Mr. Clarke keeps a very full assortment of house furnishing goods, from stoves and furnaces to plated ware, and including French china, fine cutlery, and a multitude of little conveniences that make the house keeper's heart sing for joy.

In the rear of the store is the packing room, and over this the shop where all kinds of tin and sheet iron ware are made. The establishment is very complete in all its appointments and merits a visit from all who have any house furnishing to do.

Board of Fire Wardens.

At a meeting of the Board of Fire Wardens on Monday evening there were present Mr. H. W. Cozzens, Chief Engineer, and Messrs. Oxx, Stevens, Oman and Downing.

Bills to the amount of $667.61 were ordered paid.

The invitation of the Phœnix Hook and Ladder Company to accompany them to Fall River and Rocky Point was read and accepted.

It was resolved that the committee on Fire apparatus be and are hereby authorized to make rules and regulations defining the duties of the engineers, firemen and stewards of the several engine companies.

The following firemen and engineers were then elected on recommendation from the respective committees: Engine Company No. 1, Peleg White, Engineer, and James B. Essex, Fireman. Engine Co. No. 2, Daniel Moriarty, Engineer, and John H. King, Fireman. Engine Co. No. 5, Thomas Hudson, Engineer, and Phineas C. Clarke, Fireman.

It was resolved that the engineer and fireman of Engine Co. No. 7 be elected for the ensuing year provided they comply with the rules and regulations of the committee, and are nominated by the company previous to August 1st, 1873.

It was resolved that the stewards of the hand engine companies and hook and ladder company be paid $75 each per annum for their services.

It was voted that fifteen door keys be furnished each to companies Nos. 2 and 7, and that these be all that are to be furnished.

It was voted that the committee on review be authorized to arrange for the review and inspection at an expense not exceeding $1000.

The meeting then adjourned.

A SHREWD SCHOOLMARM.—One of the schools in this city is conducted by a lady who doesn't carry a big stick around and doesn't have a face full of vinegar. Quite the reverse. And she can manage a school in a manner that would draw the perspiration from the foreheads of some of the gentlemen in the pedagogic profession. Not a great while ago it fell to her to take charge of a school which had been conducted by a gentleman. Of course the boys supposed that they could play tricks on a lady.

So when they came in from recess they entered very deliberately, one at a time, and each carefully closed the door after him. It is an old trick. We used to do it ourselves occasionally, but we never got so outlandished a did these deluded youths. After about half a dozen had entered in this way Miss — 's sympathies were aroused for that shoer and she mildly inquired the object of that thusness. The boys replied very promptly and redately that their previous teacher Mr. — had insisted that they should always close the door after passing through. Miss — said nothing, beyond expressing her satisfaction that they had been so well brought up, and in the course of a half an hour all the droogs were in the hive and were bursting with delight at the success of their trick.

But at last the hour for closing arrived. Miss — told the boys that they must remember the injunctions of their late teacher. Then she told boy No. 1 he might go out, but he must be very careful to shut the door behind him. He did so, and after that door was latched and silence again prevailed she told boy No. 2 that he might go out, only he must be very careful to latch the door after him. And then No. 3 went out, and No. 4, and so on, till finally the last boy was at liberty. Now it is very easy to persuade a boy that he ought to go into a school house with dignity and "slowfulness" but he feels it incumbent on him to go out of the room between two jerks of a lamb's tail. Those boys haven't tried to play tricks on Miss — any more.

Hay Fever.

The extraordinary efforts of Mr. Wiper Weeper to get beyond the "grand Columbia bait" to rid himself of the "Hay fever," are amusingly told by Mr. Hoppin, who is himself an annual sufferer, in a series of illustrations. Just received by A. J. Ward.

Fall River.

The Fall River News says: The house of Mr. Leeson, corner of Columbia and Eagle streets, was struck by lightning yesterday forenoon, about 10 o'clock. The fluid tore away the plastering about the chimney, and knocked down the stove pipe, but no one was injured although there were several persons in the room at the time.

Yesterday forenoon the lightning struck a tree near the residence of Seth Chace, on the banks of the Assonet river, near the Narrows, tore off a huge limb and drove it through the side of the house. It then passed down to the roots and into the cellar of the house, throwing down the cellar wall, knocking the doors open, and tearing things generally to pieces. It also entered a cupboard, and throwing several of the shelves into the room, one of which struck a boy on the side of the head, and knocked him down. It also broke some of the crockery in the cupboard. The boy was not seriously injured.

During a severe thunder shower Sunday morning the lightning played singular tricks at the residence of Mrs. W. G. Bowen, in the residence of Mrs. W. G. Bowen, in East Greenwich. Leaving the lightning rod of a chimney, the fluid entered the parlor and followed the gilt cornice entirely around the room, destroying it and the contiguous paper. It then passed through the wall into the hall, followed the bell wire to the front door, which was torn completely from its hinges, the casing splintered, and the paint stripped off in in long flakes. The inmates of the house were stunned for awhile but unhurt.

The Vital Drain.

It is necessary to the health of the body that its exhausted and refused particles should be carried off by the excretory organs, and it is equally necessary that the waste matter thus expelled should be replaced by new elements derived from digested and assimilated food. It is evident, therefore, that good digestion and perfect assimilation are essential to bodily vigor; and it is because Hostetter's Stomach Bitters powerfully assist these processes, that it is regarded by the intelligent classes, whose opinions are founded on observation, as the only absolute specific for dyspepsia and its attendant ills, at present known. When the system, either from constitutional causes, overwork, excess, anxiety, or actual disease, is in an unnaturally relaxed condition, something more than its exhausted particles passes through the pores. Vitality leaks through these wideapes. Elements which should remain in the blood and enrich it are evolved, and that fluid becomes thin, watery and incapable of nourishing the solids of the body as fast as they decay. The consequences are emaciation, debility, nervousness, loss of spirits, and, in general, or perhaps a rapid decline of all powers of life. It is in cases like this that the restorative properties of Hostetter's Bitters are most conspicuous. The best tonic three or four times a day, with a change in the feelings and aspect of the invalid that is perfectly astonishing, and by a persevering use of this superlative vegetable tonic and alterative, the vital drain is sure to be arrested, the strength reinstated, the flesh restored, the constitution reinforced, and the health restored of the ruin that obscured it.

Colgate's Perfumes.—To those who are fond of perfumes (and who is not?), we warmly recommend the entire delightful "extracts," as they are, without doubt, the finest that have yet been manufactured in America.

For Loss of Appetite, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Debility, Loss of Spirits and General Inability, use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Prepared by the Proprietors of CELEBRATED PEPPER SAUCE, HAZARD & CO., New York, and sold by all druggists. As the last Bottle, As a standard family medicine for patients recovering from fevers or other sickness it has no equal. It takes during the season of prevalent fever and ague and other malignant fevers. jy9 4w

Newport Daily News.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 30, 1873.

GENERAL NEWS.

Grant Washington.

HENRY WILSON.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Private advices received here confirm the substance of statements previously published regarding the health of the Vice President. The paralytic stroke has left Mr. Wilson's features in a somewhat distorted condition and impaired his speech. At present he is under treatment for the restoration of his general health preparatory to a more severe mode of treatment which must be adopted for the cure of paralysis. Mr. Wilson is kept upon severe regimen, and disposition of his entire time is made in accordance with the directions of his physicians. He is forbidden all mental toil. It is by no means certain that he will assume the functions of his office at the coming session.

CHARLES SUMNER.

Desiring to leave behind him the same good impression that has been entertained by his colored fellow-citizens, Charles Sumner has written a letter as a temporary farewell address, in which he goes over the old ground in advocacy of mixed schools, etc., and recommending the earnest, energetic agitation of that subject by the colored people of the district.

THE VIRGINIANS.

It is generally understood that the Government will not take any action in the case of the Virginius, an examination of the facts showing that there is nothing requiring its attention. Consul Thorington appears to have acted within the law and according to the general policy of the Department of State. The reply of the Secretary of State to the note of the Spanish Minister on this question will be of such a character as to convince that official that there has been no breach of our neutrality obligations, and that our Government could not consistently repudiate the course of its representatives. It may be stated that all the facts connected with the case have been laid before the President, and that he approves the decision both of the Secretary of State and the Secretary of the Navy.

Miscellaneous.

MALAGA, JULY 28, via LONDON, JULY 29.—(Special to N. Y. Herald.)—Fighting between the soldiers and insurgents was severe all yesterday and today. The insurgents occupied the churches of San Electa, San Nicolas and San Martin and Plaza Major which was strongly barricaded. The troops advancing yesterday along the Alemanda suffered severely from the rebels on Puerta-del War and in the citadel. After some sharp fighting there was a parley, but it came to nothing. The fighting was resumed and still continues. The losses are heavy. 160 men being dead already. It is important that over 300 barricades are erected in the heart of the city.

VIENNA, JULY 29.—In the barracks in the suburbs there has been in one day as many as 200 cases of cholera and thirty deaths. The Government has ordered the removal of troops to Brueck. In the city the deaths from cholera are reported at twenty daily.

There is no doubt that many of the highest prizes of the Exposition will be awarded to the Americans.

CAPTAIN JACK.—The question of the fate of the Modoc manslayers, lately tried by a court-martial in California, is at last put to rest by semi-official, yet authoritative dispatches, announcing that the military commission appointed to try them has awarded the full penalty of the law, and, except in case of executive interference, the sentence of death by shooting will be carried into effect as soon as it shall have been approved by the President. All of those charged with capital offences have been found guilty. The sentiment of the court-martial was unanimous, and Gen. Jeff C. Davis is earnest in the expression of his hopes that the law will be allowed to take its course. The papers in the case, there is every reason to believe, are now in Washington, but as Secretary Belknap does not return until Thursday, there is little probability of their contents being officially disclosed until after that date. The signature of the President will undoubtedly be affixed or withheld, according as the review of the court-martial proceedings by Secretary Belknap shall be favorable or adverse to the record before him. There are many facts in connection with this case of interest to the public, which will shortly be divulged. It is thought, however, by many officials of high rank, that the findings of the court-martial will be promptly endorsed.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE PAIN KILLER manufactured by PERRY DAVIS & SON has won for itself a reputation unsurpassed in medical preparations. The universality of the demand for the Pain-Killer is a novel, interesting, and surprising feature in the history of this medicine. The Pain-Killer is now regularly sold in large and steadily increasing quantities, not only to general agents in every Province in British America, but in Buenos Ayres, Brazil, Uruguay, Peru, Chili, and other South American States; to the Sandwich Islands; to Cuba and other West India Islands; to England and Continental Europe; to Mozambique, Madagascar, Zanzibar, and other African lands; to Australia, and Calcutta, Rangoon and other places in India. It has also been sent to China, and we doubt if there is any foreign port or any inland city in Africa or Asia, which is frequented by American and European missionaries travelers or traders, into which the Pain-Killer has not been introduced.

The extent of its usefulness is another great feature of this remarkable medicine. It is not only the best thing ever known, as every lady will confess, for bruises, cuts, burns, &c., but for dysentery or cholera, or any sort of bowel complaint, it is a remedy unsurpassed for efficiency and rapidity of action. In the great cities of British India and the West Indian Islands and other hot climates, it has become the standard medicine for all such complaints, as well as dyspepsia, liver complaint, and other kindred disorders. For coughs and colds, canker, asthma and rheumatic difficulties, it has been proved by the most abundant and convincing trials and testimony, to be an invaluable medicine. The proprietors are in possession of letters from persons of the highest character and responsibility, testifying in the equivocal terms to the cures effected and the satisfactory results produced in an endless variety of cases by the use of this great medicine. That the Pain-Killer is deserving of its proprietors claim for it is amply proved by the unparalleled popularity it has attained. It is a safe and effective remedy. It is sold in almost every country in the world, and is becoming more and more popular every year. Its healing properties have been fully tested all over the world and it need only be known to be prized.

The Students' Regatta in Germany.

The Ithaca Journal prints extracts from a private letter written by no ex-Cornell student of '71, descriptive of a boat race on the River Neckar at Heidelberg, between "scrub" crews of English and American students. The boats were six-oared barges, each rowed by three men and steered by a coxswain. The description is as follows:

"For four days before the Saturday we pulled over the course, nearly two miles, once a day. We had no expectation of winning, but on the contrary expected to be left behind, and told everybody so, as did the English also. When the day arrived the English fellows had decorated a large barge, procured a band of music, invited all the English ladies and two or three Americans on board to witness their triumph and moored the vessel in the middle of the course. After the first race, in which a Brazilian boat, containing one American, was victorious, ours came off. It was the race of the regatta, and the start was perfect. I pulled the two bow oars and acted as captain.

At first neither of us took the lead much, but after half a mile we were half a length ahead; then, being near the head of the rapids, we put in a spurt, and took the lead by two or three lengths, as far as the bridge. We had only a little blue jack in our bow, while the English boat had the British flag in the stern. Before reaching the bridge the people on the shore began to make signs and the situation, and commenced shouting. Our friends, who had come to see us beaten, grew excited, yelled at and cheered us, and ran along the road. Others yelled at the Englishboat to 'hurry up,' and altogether it was an exciting contest. One voice, high above us on the bridge, was heard above all others, 'Hurrah for America!' Below the bridge they slowly gained, but when we passed the barge they were still a length and a half behind. We came in victor by a full length, and then hoisted our silk flag in the stern. Then we had to receive our congratulations, and they were immeasurable and fervent. Our fellow American students crowded around and almost wild with delight; every one had to be shaken hands with, including several strangers and ladies. Such a cr-ed-fallen set as the English ladies were, I never saw. The other crew were also terribly put out, the race had such an unexpected ending, and their humiliation, as well as that of their friends, was extreme."

Miscellaneous.

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN

JURUBEBA

BLOOD PURIFIER

Is the most powerful cleanser of the system ever discovered. It is especially adapted to eradicate all "scrofula" and diseases caused by the warm weather of Spring and Summer, when the blood is not in active circulation, consequently gathering impurities from sluggishness and imperfect action of the digestive organs, and is manifested by Tumors, Eruptions, Blotches, Boils, Pustules, Scrofula, &c., &c.

When weary and lassitude from overwork, and debility, disorder and torpidity take the place of energy and vigor, the system needs a Tonic to build it up and help the Vital Forces to regain their normal active power.

In the heat of Summer, frequently the Liver and Spleen do not properly perform their functions; the Uterine and Urinary Organs are inactive, producing weakness of the stomach and low fever and a predisposition to bilious derangement.

DR. WELLS'

EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

Is prepared directly from the SOUTH AMERICAN PLANT, and is peculiarly suited to all these difficulties; it will cleanse the VITIATED BLOOD, strengthen the DIGESTIVE POWERS, and REMOVE ALL OBSTRUCTIONS from IMPAIRED EXCRETED Organs.

It should be freely taken, as Jurubeba is prepared by medical writers the most efficient PURIFIER, TONIC and DEOBSTRUENT known to the whole range of medicinal plants.

Medical.

NOTICE.

A physician in New York physician lately compounded in his private study, about his Sanspareille, the PANACEA, stating that sometimes they cured miraculously, but that a portion of the time failed from want of effect. On being informed that several imitations were sold by unprincipled men, he patent that not been taking DUNDAS DICK & CO'S.

What happened to the first lady person may have happened to others, and DUNDAS DICK & CO. take this method of protecting the public from druggists and themselves, and preventing the Sanspareille from coming into disrepute.

PHYSICIANS who order the Capsules will continue to do so, for they contain the pure oil in the best and cheapest form.

DUNDAS DICK & CO., 16 Platt St., N. Y., Sanspareille manufacturers in the U. S. continue, and this is the sole reason why the pure oil is sold cheaper in their Capsules than in any other form.

ONE CAPSULE A DAY only is the superseding every other remedy, sixty Capsules only being required to make a cure and to eradicate an attack of eight days. Proof no other medicine can this record claim.

DICK'S Safe Capsules relieve Kidney Complaint in a few hours, and are the only Capsules prescribed by Physicians.

TASTE—Less Medicine—Carbolic oil and many other compounds rendered it next to impossible to take Capsules and DUNDAS DICK & CO'S CAPSULES ARE TASTELESS.

No Taste. No Smell.

☞ Please observe the only capsules introduced to the Lord Paris Exposition.

Sold by Druggists in the United States, Canada, and Europe.
